

Privacy Statement

The personal information that you have provided to The Northiam & District Historical & Literary Society (hereafter referred to as The Society) is limited to your name, address, telephone number, email address (where applicable).

The Society maintains your personal information on our database for the sole purpose of communicating with you and other members. This is so that we may continue to provide you with information about The Society's activities, meetings and due dates for annual subscriptions. The database is held in a secure digital format, where it can only be accessed, read and used by authorised personnel nominated by the organising committee of The Society.

The Society undertakes to not sell, publish, process or otherwise disclose your personal information to any other party.

The Society will always comply with the Data Protection Act 1998 and all other relevant and subsequent legislation. Under the Data Protection Act and the forthcoming General Data Protection Regulation you have the right to request a copy of the information we hold about you and to have any inaccuracies corrected. You also have the right to have your information deleted from our database.

Should you wish to request a copy of your information, or to have your information deleted from our database, please contact The Society on 01797 253428 or by e-mail at slepe14@john-lewis.com.
